

Northeastern University & UCI Division of Continuing Education

ABOUT THE PARTNERSHIP

Introducing a partnership between Northeastern University and the University of California Irvine (UCI) Division of Continuing Education. Now, UCI students who've earned certain graduate certificates, and satisfy Northeastern's admissions requirements, can transfer credit towards Master of Science Degree programs.

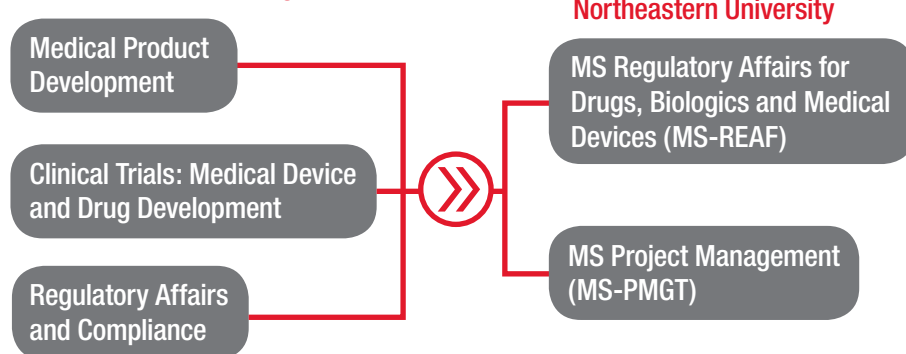

NORTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY—A GLOBAL NETWORK WITH LOCAL CONNECTIONS

Founded in 1898, Northeastern University is a private, non-profit research university built on a tradition of engagement with the world. Northeastern is a top-40 university and the recognized leader in experiential learning, anchored in the world's largest and most innovative cooperative education program.

QUALIFYING CERTIFICATE AND MASTER OF SCIENCE DEGREE PROGRAMS

Completion of the following UCI DCE programs equate transfer credit of up to 16 quarter hours toward one of the Northeastern CPS Master's program:

UCI Division of Continuing Education

»» For more information, visit northeastern.edu/uci

More than 42%

of all regulatory professionals hold a master's degree or higher. (RAPS, 2016)

WHERE OUR GRADUATES WORK AND WHAT THEY DO

Many Northeastern graduates are employed by some of the world's best companies, including Shire, Pfizer, Medtronic, Biogen, and Teva Pharmaceuticals, in some of the most in-demand industries requiring in-demand skills, such as regulatory affairs, pharmaceuticals, food safety, clinical trials, and standard operating Procedure (SOP). Our grads hold positions in research, quality assurance, operations, healthcare services, legal, and more.