Overview
UCI Division of Continuing Education’s (DCE) online Reading Certificate Program is designed to help credentialed teachers meet local, state, and federal requirements that ensure that all pupils have fair access to high-quality education with a foundation in reading. The Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CTC) serves as the approving agency and issuer of the Reading and Literacy Added Authorization (RLAA).

The Reading Certificate Program also serves the needs of community college instructors, teachers outside of California, and others in the field that require knowledge in the area of reading education but do not meet the requirements of the CTC-issued certificate.

What are the requirements to begin the CTC-issued Reading and Literacy Added Authorization (RLAA) Program?

- Possess a valid California teaching credential
- Possess an English learner authorization
- Complete a minimum of three years of full-time service in public schools or private schools at the time of recommendation for the Reading Certificate
- Access to a classroom and site based supervisor to participate in Education X300.76 Reading Practicum

To be recommended to the Commission, you must have access to a K-12 learning environment at the time you are enrolled in Education X300.76 Reading Practicum to complete the Practicum requirement. You must identify and work with individuals and/or small groups of students at both early (PreK-3) and intermediate (4th grade and up) levels of literacy acquisition. The learning environment need not be your own. Examples of an acceptable practicum experience include – but are not limited to:

- A colleague’s classroom in your district or in another district
- An afterschool reading program sponsored by a school district
- Special learning environments, such as those established by grants or that are part of institutes or laboratories

How do I apply to the CTC-issued Reading and Literacy Added Authorization Program?

It is recommended that you apply to the program prior to beginning coursework. Enrollment does not constitute admission to the program. Your completion requirements are based upon when you are admitted to the program, not when you began taking coursework.

In order to be considered for admissions for the CTC-issued RLAA program, you must complete an application form (https://ce.uci.edu/areas/education/application/) and submit the required documents stated below. Please submit the required documents in PDF format.

A. Application form (Please fill out all sections of the application form. Failure to complete all sections of the application form could result in delaying the admissions process.)

B. Copy of valid California teaching credential or credentials
   - A copy from the CTC website is acceptable documentation
C. Copy of English learner authorization (such as CTEL, CLAD, BCLAD, ELA1, CCSD or LDS)
   • A copy from the CTC website is acceptable documentation

D. Copy of your basic skills requirement (such as CBEST)
   • If you do not have a copy, you may obtain a copy from your school district or CBEST at http://www.ctcexams.nesinc.com/results.asp.

E. Official verification of at least three years of full-time employment on a valid California teaching credential. Experience does not include student teaching or teaching while holding an emergency permit. Full-time teaching experience outside of California may be accepted toward those three years.
   • Verification needs to be on school district letterhead. Verification needs to be signed by your school district’s Director of Human Resources, Director of Personnel, Superintendent, or Assistant Superintendent.
   • If you have less than three years full-time experience, you may be eligible to receive a conditional admittance to the program and complete the three years of full-time service at the time of recommendation for the Reading Certificate. Please contact UCI DCE’s Education Programs at unex-educate@uci.edu or (949) 824-7945 to discuss your program eligibility.

F. Statement of Intent
   • Please describe in writing your reasons for participating in the CTC-issued RLAA program and how the program may be relevant and applicable to your goals as an educator (approximately one page in length). Address to CTC-issued Reading and Literacy Added Authorization Program.

What are the requirements to earn the UCI Division of Continuing Education-issued Reading Certificate?
If you do not meet the requirements for CTC-issued certification (such as teaching at a community college, teaching out of state, or working in a private industry), you may be eligible to earn a UCI DCE-issued Reading Certificate. For the UCI DCE-issued certificate, you must complete all the coursework required for the CTC-issued certificate, including the Practicum. Participants in the UCI DCE-issued Certificate program have a wider variety of options for the Practicum experience. For example:

• Out-of-state public or private K-12 schools
• Postsecondary/community college classrooms
• Private tutoring groups
• Adult Education classrooms
• Classes you are teaching overseas
How do I apply to UCI DCE-issued Reading Certificate?

In order to be considered for admissions to UCI DCE-issued Reading Certificate program, please complete the application form and submit a Statement of Intent. See Appendix for application form. Submit the Application Form and Statement of Intent to unex-educate@uci.edu or mail to UCI Division of Continuing Education, Education Programs, P.O. Box 6050, Irvine, CA 92616-6050.

Course Descriptions

EDUC X300.71 Promoting a Culture of Literacy (3 units)
Develop an in-depth knowledge about how to define, promote, and assess an effective culture of literacy at the classroom, school, district, and community levels. In this course, participants review the foundational beginnings of our national culture of literacy. Students read and analyze current research to discuss its application in promoting a rich culture of literacy across all domains of language (reading, writing, listening, and speaking), in a variety of contexts, and with a variety of texts (expository, informational, and narrative). Course content also considers ways in which the language and literacy experiences of all students can contribute to a culture of literacy which honors students’ abilities, skills, and diverse backgrounds.

EDUC X300.72 Foundations in Fluency (3 units)
Increase your understanding of emergent literacy, the structure of the English language, and the development of fluent reading within a school-wide culture of literacy. In this course, students review current research pertaining to fluency, oral language development, word analysis, and written language development. Participants then integrate this research with practical application. Course content also considers the normal progression in complexity for each component of literacy, as explicated in the state standards. Finally, students learn about instructional sequences and routines that develop and accelerate students’ language and literacy learning, including Response to Intervention (RtI).

EDUC X300.73 Assessment, Instruction, and Intervention (3 units)
Learn how to assess, instruct, and provide intervention, if needed, for each component of research-based literacy instruction, including: oral language development, word analysis, fluency, vocabulary development, listening and reading comprehension, and written language development. Participants learn to interpret the results of various classroom assessments, including formative, on-going, and summative measures. Students align assessments with instructional programs and discuss effective assessment-based intervention programs. Participants also consider the appropriate assessment of diverse students with unique learning needs. Course content shows how to use grade-level or school-wide assessment data to implement and revise instructional programs, and to plan, implement, and evaluate school-wide professional development.

EDUC X300.74 Balance Literacy and Strategy Instruction (3 units)
Develop the knowledge and skills needed to teach reading comprehension within a balanced literacy program. Learn instructional sequences that develop and accelerate language and literacy learning. Topics include the role of academic language and of background knowledge, as well as strategic vocabulary development and concept formation. Students learn how to plan strategy instruction (inference, summarization, predicting, questioning, clarifying), and to simultaneously support listening and reading comprehension skills. Course content presents methods to motivate reluctant readers, and scaffolding strategies to support diverse learners through engaging literature.
EDUC X300.75 21st Century Literacy (3 units)
Learn how to characterize 21st Century Literacy Skills. Use methods to incorporate information literacy skills in classroom activities in which students learn to access, evaluate, use, and integrate information and ideas found in print, media, and digital resources. This process enables them to function in a knowledge-based and technology-oriented society. Course content considers multimedia literacy, techniques to help students synthesize expository text (online and offline), and research on technology use in the classroom. Students review the critical aspects of multiple digital literacies for 21st century skills necessary for success in today’s global economy.

EDUC X300.76 Reading Practicum (3 units)
The Reading Practicum is the culminating course in the Reading Certificate Program and candidates must complete all other courses in the program prior to enrolling in this course. Candidates will participate in at least 45 hours of documented work in a selected educational environment that provides candidates with the opportunity to deliver balanced, comprehensive and reflective reading and language arts instruction. Candidates are required to work with individuals and/or small groups of students at both early (PreK-3) and intermediate (4th grade and up) levels of literacy acquisition. With guidance from a field-based mentor, candidates will undertake directed work with diverse learners, including English language learners, beginning readers, and students with specific deficiencies. Candidates will assess struggling readers at both early and intermediate levels; tutor or teach small groups of struggling readers at two or more reading levels including the nonreader level and one or more higher levels. Prerequisites: EDUC X300.71 Promoting a Culture of Literacy, EDUC X300.72 Foundations in Fluency, EDUC X300.73 Assessment, Instruction, and Intervention, EDUC X300.74 Balanced Literacy and Strategy Instruction, and EDUC X300.75 21st Century Literacy.

Is there a required sequence of courses?
Although there is not a "required" sequence of courses, it is “recommend” to complete EDUC X300.72 Foundations in Fluency prior to enrolling EDUC X300.73 Assessment, Instruction, and Intervention. It is required that all other coursework in the program be completed before enrolling in EDUC X300.76 Reading Practicum. All requirements must be completed within five (5) years after the student enrolls in his/her first course.

What is the Reading Practicum?
The Reading Practicum is a capstone course incorporating guided fieldwork that offers candidates an opportunity to demonstrate the knowledge, skills and abilities acquired during the Reading Certificate program. It is the last course in the program.

What are the essential elements of the Reading Practicum?
Candidates are expected to nominate a field supervisor for service; select an instructional environment comprised of readers of varied abilities; work with students at both early (PreK-3) and intermediate (4th grade and up) levels of literacy acquisition; undertake pre- and post- as well as formative assessment activities; deliver a comprehensive reading intervention based on assessment; and summarize findings and recommendations based on the success of the intervention. Candidates will also be observed by the field supervisor at least two times during the course.
Who can serve as a Field Supervisor? What are the Criteria for Service?
Field supervisors may be experienced reading teachers; literacy coaches; reading specialists; or administrators. The practicum instructor will work with you and your field supervisor to coordinate observations and other elements of the course where needed. They are responsible for:

- Reviewing your Practicum Portfolio, including data analyses and intervention plans
- Observing you in action
- Providing you with regular, ongoing feedback on performance and progress so that the you can affect formative changes to his/her work with pupils
- Providing the course instructor with regular feedback

How much does it cost?
Each online course is $525, making the total cost of tuition $3,150.

Is there an application fee?
There is no application fee at the time of admission.

What happens if I do not earn a “B” or better in a course in the program?
Candidates not making sufficient progress are notified officially by the Education Programs Department and provided with an opportunity to discuss options for assistance and to respond to Department decisions. It is possible a candidate would need to retake a course in the program by re-enrolling and paying again for the course.

Can I transfer coursework into the Reading Certificate Program?
In most cases, candidates may transfer no more than one qualified course to this certificate program. Coursework must be from an accredited four year college or university. Coursework must have been completed within the past five years. Coursework must be credit in nature and be completed with at least a letter grade of “B.”

Grievances
All Division of Continuing Education (DCE) students are subject to the UCI Code of Student Conduct. Implementation of some aspects of the Code of Conduct may be modified to accommodate the unique needs of our students. However, students with a grievance regarding their treatment within DCE have several avenues to pursue their concerns (as outlined on the Office of Academic Integrity and Student Conduct website): instructor of their course, Director of their Academic Program, Office of the Registrar and the Dean’s Office. Students also have access to the UCI Office of the Ombudsman, which can assist students with thinking through the problem and devising a plan for resolving issues. Although it generally makes sense to attempt to resolve any difficulties at the lowest possible level of the academic hierarchy, students may initiate the grievance policy by contacting their instructor, academic staff, or DCE management. Any grievance from applicants to appeal an admissions decision is directed to the department director for processing.
