Welcome to the 2020 OLLI Spring catalog. As you can imagine, a lot of work went into planning the course offerings as well as the actual production of the catalog. We are all very grateful to the volunteers who put in countless hours of work to develop our new semester schedule, and to our heroic office staff who work tirelessly in actually producing the final product.

This past year we have worked very diligently on producing a new strategic plan for OLLI at UCI which we hope will continue to enhance our tradition of excellent classes and new and very enjoyable excursions. We have also partnered with the UCI Chancellor’s Club on a new joint dinner/panel discussion which, if successful, we will try and replicate for more members in the future. We are also experimenting with having coffee prior to some classes so that members have time to meet and talk with other members in a convenient and pleasant environment.

Enjoy the coming year, and I trust that you all will continue to have a meaningful OLLI at UCI experience.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

• Where are your classes held?
The classroom and office are located at the Irvine Station, across from the train station lobby and facing Ada, at 15207 Barranca Parkway, Irvine (next to the Station Café). Office hours are 9 AM to 2 PM, Monday through Friday. Contact us at 949-451-1403 or olli@uci.edu.

• Where do I park while attending my class?
Ample free parking is available in the adjacent parking structure. Vehicles that display a valid handicapped placard may park in the 90-minute spaces on the first floor of the parking garage as well as in the marked handicapped spaces. You will be ticketed without a valid placard. Plenty of free parking is available on the upper levels, with elevator access to the first floor.

• I am waitlisted for a class. How do I know if I can get into the class?
You will be notified if space becomes available. You may also show up on the day of class to see if there is room since we typically have no-shows. In many cases, there is space available for walk-ins.

• If I arrive late for my class, will you hold my seat?
We do not hold seats in a full class. Arrive early; five minutes prior to the start of class any extra seats will be released to walk-ins. Even if you are enrolled, a seat cannot be guaranteed if you are late.

• How do I suggest a course for OLLI?
Attend a curriculum committee meeting and share your ideas. Meeting dates are posted in the classroom.

• How can I get involved?
We need volunteers to facilitate classes, organize events, develop new courses, and more. Contact us at olli@uci.edu for more information.

THE VICTORIAN THRILLERS: WOMEN SENSATIONALISTS
AH 103
In the late Victorian Age, a new genre, the thriller, became the rage. Notable sensationalist writers included several colorful women such as Marie Corelli and Marie Lowndes. This class will explore a delightful era of popular British literature, taking a look at the phenomenon of the thriller, illuminating the major women writers involved, and, finally, making an investigation into Corelli and Lowndes. These works give a remarkable insight into the private terror of the time.
The first session will discuss The Sorrows of Satan by Corelli (1895) and the second will discuss The Lodger by Lowndes (1913). Both are available on the web for free.
Presenter: Marjorie Coverley Luesebrink, Professor Emeritus at Irvine Valley College
Developer: Judy Strauss

BRUSH UP YOUR SHAKESPEARE
AH 104
Even after 400 years, the Bard of Avon still has a lot to say to us. But sometimes, it’s not that easy to understand what he is saying! In this interactive class, we will do a ‘deep-dive’ into two Shakespeare plays of the group’s choosing. We will read the plays aloud in sections, and then discuss and analyze the themes, plot, and language, enhanced by video clips of specific scenes.
Enrollment is limited to 20 registered participants.

HOW TO TELL BAROQUE FROM ROMANTIC AND MODERN MUSIC
A Course in the Periods of Classical Music and Their Composers
AH 105
This course is for the OLLI member who doesn’t have a clue, when listening to a piece of classical music, as to figuring out what classical period it’s from and who the composer might be. For others, perhaps this could be an enjoyable “brush up” course. We will explore the composers and music of the following periods: Baroque, Classical, Pre-Romantic, Romantic, and Modern. An informal listening quiz will be given in the last session.
Presenter/Developer: Meredith Cheston, B.A., English, UC Berkeley; UCI Retiree, and OLLI developer of music, art and literature classes for the last 13 years.

MODERN ART DEMYSTIFIED
AH 106
Modern art remains an enigma for many people. This presentation will help to further the understanding of modernist trends, which many art historians believe began in the mid-19th century and were rooted in an awareness and comprehension of nature. The discussion will begin with well-known Impressionists such as Monet, Cezanne, and Van Gogh and conclude with 20th century notables Rothko, Pollack and de Kooning.
Presenter: Dr. William Havlicek, Ph.D., an esteemed author, educator and artist.

CREATIVE WRITING FOR POTENTIAL AUTHORS
AH 111
Celebrate your inner author by joining us for a month-long journey in creative writing. This course will focus on short pieces - the short story and creative essays - but the writing skills are applicable to longer works as well. Literary elements such as point of view, dialogue, plot structure, and characterization will be studied. There will be classroom exercises, discussion, and small group sharing of pieces written at home between classes.
Enrollment is limited to 15 registered participants.
Presenter: Jeanie Fritzsche
is a published short story writer. She taught in Irvine and was the Curriculum Coordinator in the Irvine School District where she taught the elements of writing to high school English teachers.

YOUR AGING DNA: The Link to Diet and Diabetes SC 204
As we age, a significant factor affecting the development or worsening of many degenerative diseases, such as diabetes, atherosclerosis, kidney disease, and Alzheimer’s, are damaging proteins in our bodies known as Advanced Glycation End products (AGEs). These proteins are consumed in our diet and can also result from the biochemical combination of excess blood sugar tied to diabetes. Found in plants as well as animals, the amount of AGEs in our bodies is affected by how foods are processed and cooked. The mechanisms of diabetes and the relationship of AGEs to aging, especially skin, dietary health, inflammation, and other diseases will be discussed.

A GEOLOGIC TRAVELOGUE: Understanding the Wonders SC 207

This class takes you on a trip with a geologist to four locations that you might have visited or have in mind for a future visit. The beauty and geologic history responsible will be viewed and explained. We will explore the cliffs of Ireland, the volcanic islands of the Galapagos, the wild coast of Tasmania, and the tectonic impacts in New Zealand. Whether you have some knowledge of geology or not, this class will enhance your appreciation of these locations.

INNOVATION AND ENTREPRENEURSHIP AT UCI SC 206

UCI Beall Applied Innovation (located at the Cove facility in UCI Research Park) brings campus-based discoveries together with Orange County’s vibrant business community to support job creation and economic growth. It facilitates access by entrepreneurs to university inventions and talent, connects large corporations to the school’s research capabilities, incubates promising startup companies, and showcases those companies to potential investors and strategic partners. In this lecture we will learn how the Cove is helping to drive the evolution of a vibrant, entrepreneurial innovation ecosystem in the heart of Orange County.

THE ANIMAL-HUMAN DISEASE THREAT SC 209

Infectious diseases arising from animal sources (commonly referred to as zoonotic infections) have had significant public health consequences. They remain a major focus of the medical community’s efforts to identify and rapidly manage emerging threats. More than 6 out of every 10 known infectious diseases in people are spread from animals. Spread of viruses and bacteria can be through direct contact, indirect contact and other means. This talk will focus on zoonotic disease threats - infections in animal hosts that spread to humans and wreak havoc.

ANDROID SMARTPHONE PHOTOGRAPHY
SC 211
Question: What is the best camera in the world? Answer: The one you have with you! In 2017 we took 7.5 trillion photos, about 80% snapped on smartphones. Few travelers carry bulky cameras around their necks anymore.

We explore the controls on android smartphone cameras and learn how to capture the best image possible. We’ll discuss features such as panoramas and more. This class also covers the art of photography, developing your photographer’s eye and teaching easy-to-use techniques for better photos. Bring your smartphone to class.

DISCOVERIES FROM THE WORLD’S FIRST EXTREMELY LARGE TELESCOPE
SC 213
The Large Binocular Telescope in Arizona has the largest light collecting area of any telescope in operation today. Using two identical 27.5-foot (8.4-meter) telescopes mounted side-by-side, it has a combined collecting area of a single 39-foot (11.8-meter) telescope and the resolution of a single 74-foot (22.7-meter) scope. It became fully operational in January 2008 and pioneered new technologies that are now being applied to other very large instruments under construction throughout the world. In this class we cover the design of the instrument, review some of its discoveries and view amazing images of our universe.

Wolves and coyotes are encroaching on urban residences as their wild habitats are under pressure from expanding human land use. This lecture will examine the differences and similarities in the biology, behavior, social structure, historical and current ranges, and roles in the ecosystems of coyotes and wolves. We will compare these wild canids to our familiar domesticated dog and consider important questions such as, what is it like to hike and backpack in wolf country? The mission of Wolf Haven International is “to conserve and protect wolves and their habitat” and to educate the public on these amazing creatures.

THE SECRET LIFE OF GALAXIES

There are more than 100 billion galaxies in the observable universe and a single galaxy can contain more than a trillion stars! When you look at pictures of galaxies, have you wondered how they got those shapes, how they formed and how they evolved? When did this begin, and will some of them collide? Are some much different than others? Is the Milky Way unusual or ordinary? This presentation will address those questions and more. We will also investigate simulation techniques used to expand our understanding and discuss current and future space missions.

GLOBAL ECONOMIC INEQUALITY
SS 303

The global distribution of wealth and income is tremendously unequal - more unequal than in any single country. New research in economics shows just how unequal our world truly is. Questions that will be discussed: Is inequality rising or falling? What causes changes in global wealth and income distribution? What political and ethical consequences can be discerned? What are the likely implications for the future?

ELECTED OFFICIALS
Community Engagement and Advocacy Supporting the UCI Mission
SS 302

The University of California at Irvine (UCI) has received many accolades in the past few years and today is regarded as one of the top universities in the nation. UCI’s success does not come easily. Among several factors, it involves the support and cooperation of many outside players. How does that come about? The Office of Community and Government Relations (CGR) serves as the link between the campus and public/elected officials (federal, state, and local) and community leaders. CGR supports UCI through strategic relationships, strengthening UCI’s public perception, and the pursuit of public policy outcomes that benefit the University of California.

TENSIONS BETWEEN THE US, RUSSIA AND CHINA
SS 308
Could current tensions between the United States, Russia, and China lead to a second Cold War? The three countries played key roles in the first Cold War, 1947-1991. When the Soviet Union disintegrated in the early 1990s, people were hopeful that a new era of friendship had begun. We will examine the first Cold War, and then ask why tensions in recent years could amount to a second Cold War.

THE CONTENTIOUS DEBATE OVER U.S. IMMIGRATION POLICY
SS 309
What would it take for Congress to summon the political will to craft a “comprehensive” immigration reform? The U.S. Congress has the constitutional power and responsibility to enact laws pertaining to immigration and naturalization. In recent decades it has been unable to agree on the compromises necessary to reach agreements on major issues. The cause of this failure lies in the deep divisions in national and state politics, the courts, the media, the blogosphere, and communities.

THE HUMAN UNDERSIDE OF CHINA’S ECONOMIC RISE SS 314
Much of the world has been mesmerized by China’s economic miracle and its results. Millions of people have indeed been lifted out of poverty. However, there are still millions who have been left behind. This includes migrants from the countryside and a large number of poorly-educated urban workers who were fired to make industry competitive on the world market. The course will explore the political, economic and social reasons behind those problems.

NEW Special Event Refund/Cancellation Policy

• Enrollees may cancel out of an event more than 30 days before the event and receive a full refund of the event price (less a $15 administrative fee).

• Enrollees may cancel out of an event less than 30 days before the event and receive a full refund of the event price (less a $15 administrative fee) if there is a wait list for the event and if the facilitator can find a replacement from the wait list.

• Enrollees unable to attend an event are welcome to arrange for a substitute. Payment will be handled between the enrollee and the substitute. It is the responsibility of the enrollee to contact the event facilitator with the information about the substitute.

• UCI Drama performances and events $15 or less are not refundable.

Member Responsibility for Trips

• Notify the trip facilitator as soon as you know you cannot attend a trip or event; many times we have a waitlist.

• If you use a wheelchair or require other assistance, please notify the event facilitator prior to the trip.

• Please bring completed UCI Liability Waiver and Emergency Contact forms with you, which will be e-mailed to you prior to the event. The trip facilitators will have a limited number of blank forms available on the day of the trip.

OLLI Responsibility for Trips

• OLLI will include information about the difficulty level of the trip (such as long-distance walking, uneven or inclined surfaces, or stairs) in the course description, when applicable.

• If, while on the trip, the facilitator feels that you cannot safely continue, you will be asked to wait for the group.

• OLLI will notify enrollees if a Special Event is cancelled or if the location, time or other details have changed.

BUS DEPARTURE LOCATION

Unless indicated otherwise, buses depart from the Irvine Station, directly across from the entrance to the parking garage, between the flagpoles and taxi signs. See the map on page 2 of this catalog.

L.A’S ROARING 20’S
SE 55
Think you missed the roaring 20’s? Our guide, Curt, takes us back to that golden era in Los Angeles with visits to iconic sites in downtown LA including Aimee Semple McPherson’s Foursquare Heritage Center and the historically preserved Old Bank District, including Farmers and Merchants Bank founded in 1871 with a façade suggesting a roman temple. Lunch is at the luxurious beaux-arts inspired Biltmore Hotel, a legendary landmark since 1923. The day ends with a spectacular view from the 27th floor of City Hall.

JAZZ! JAZZ! JAZZ!
Sweet Syncopating with Some Sip’n SE 57
Toot your horn and grab a chair. Jazz! It is quintessentially American but where did it come from? What makes it exciting as a musical art form? Explore its history and intricacies in an oral presentation in the first hour. Mellow out in the second hour with a tasting of wine and cheese while savoring the beat of a jazz quintet from Saddleback College.

Presenter: Joey Sellers,
Director of Jazz Studies and Saddleback College Jazz instrumentalists
Developers: Meredith Cheston, Linda Vine

HERSHEY FELDER:
ANNA AND SERGEI SE 58
In this world premiere, Hershey will take us on a little known story about the Great Russian pianist and composer Sergei Rachmaninoff. Set in 1928 in Long Island, this is the story of Rachmaninoff crossing paths with someone he believed to be a descendent of Czar Nicholas II and takes a journey that few would ever believe. In this new play, Hershey will play musical characters, but in a way he has never done before.

IN WALT’S FOOTSTEPS:
Special Sites From Disney’s Life SE 59
What inspired Walt Disney to create The Magic Kingdom? Walk in his footsteps as we visit the studio where he started his animation career in 1923. Lunch is at cozy, old-world Tam O’Shanter where he and his crew often ate between takes. On to Griffith Park and to Carolwood Barn, the home of his miniature railroad workshop and the carousel his daughters rode and that allegedly led him to create Disneyland. Final stop is at his final resting place.

THE GREAT PARK TOUR AND BALLOON RIDE
Up and Away Over Irvine SE 60
See how a retired military base, with a rich agricultural history, is beginning a new life as a great metropolitan space. The Marine Corp Air Station El Toro’s World War I era atmosphere and architecture have been preserved by means of adaptive reuse of existing buildings. Open spaces have been turned into an extensive sports complex. Following a short documentary in historic Hangar 244, we will take a tram tour, visit the Arts Complex and go up in the Great Park Balloon. The view from the tethered balloon is spectacular.

Developer: Lonnie Horn
Thursday, May 21
1:00 - 3:30 PM
$25 (Includes tour and balloon ride)
Self-drive to the Great Park Visitor Center (directions will be provided to those enrolled).

DIRECTOR’S VOICE I:
The Penelopiad SE 61
Margaret Atwood retells Homer’s “The Odyssey” from Penelope’s perspective. The audience is taken on an epic journey from Penelope’s birth in Sparta, to her arranged marriage to Odysseus, her travel to Ithaca, her relationship with Helen, the birth of her son, and her survival. All this told posthumously by Penelope herself.

DIRECTOR’S VOICE II:
Living Out SE 62
Lisa Loomer’s comic drama about immigration and working mothers could not be more timely. Both Ana and Nancy leave their children in the care of others, but Ana is an undocumented Salvadoran, while Nancy is a high-powered attorney. The contrast is both funny and tragic, as we witness the terror of the undocumented and the devastating effects of inequality on our society.

DIRECTOR’S VOICE III:
The Book of Will
SE 63

Without Henry Condell and John Heminges, we would have lost half of Shakespeare’s plays forever! After the death of their friend and mentor, the two actors were determined to compile the First Folio. Amidst the noise and color of Elizabethan London, The Book of Will is an unforgettable true story of love, loss, and laughter, and sheds new light on a man you may think you know.

DIRECTOR’S VOICE IV: Hands on a Hard Body
SE 64

In this contest, only one winner can drive away with the American Dream. For 10 contestants, a new lease on life is close. In days of scorching sun, armed with only hope, humor, and ambition, they will fight to keep one hand on a new truck to win it. It’s an absurd marketing gimmick, but the contest proves to be much more.

Presenter: Myrona DeLaney, Director, is a UCI Professor of Drama and heads up its New York Satellite Program in Musical Theatre.
